BLARE OF TRUMPETS.

Britain's New Sovereign Officially Proclaimed to the People.

KING DID NOT ATTEND THE FUNCTION.

Great Concourse of People Witnessed The Ceremonies and Shouted in Chorus "God Save the King." King Returns to Osborne.

London, Jan. 24.—King Edward, escorted by a squadron of the Horseguards and accompanied by the Duke of York, Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and others, left Marlborough House at 11 o'clock to take the train for Osborne. The crowds still thronged the streets through which his majesty passed and the great cheering was in strong contrast with the silence which greeted his majesty's arrival in London.

A royal salute in celebration of his majesty's accession was fired at noon in St. James Park.

The proclamation announcing Edward VII as King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India was read at 9 a. m. in St. James palace by William Henry Weldon, king-at-arms since 1894 and formerly Windsor herald. The king was not present. Among those in attendance were General Roberts and members of his headquarters staff and other army officers. There was a great concourse of people from the commencement to the close. The proclamation was greeted by a fanfare of trumpets. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the band belonging to the footguards in the Friary court played "God Save the King." Members of the king's household witnessed the ceremony from Marlborough House. On the balcony overlooking the Friary court whence the proclamation was read were the Duke of Norfolk and other officers of state. The balcony was draped in crimson cloth. Beside the officials in resplendent uniforms were stationed state trumpeters. Here was seen many prominent persons, among them Sir Henry Arthur White, private solicitor to the queen, the new Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family. In the yard of Marlborough House and the Friary court was stationed a large body of police, soldiers and footguards. The spectators began to assemble at an early hour. The troops arrived at 8 o'clock and shortly before 9 o'clock a brilliant cavalcade passed down the Mall and entered Friary court. It consisted of the heads of staff, headed by the commander-in-chief of the forces, Field Marshal Earl Roberts in full uniform and carrying a marshal's baton, and General Sir Evelyn Wood, the adjutant general to the forces. At 9 o'clock the court dignitaries, headed by the Duke of Norfolk, the earl-marshal, appeared at the balcony. Then the heralds blew a fanfare and King-at-Arms Weldon in the midst of dead silence read the proclamation.

"God Save the King." All heads were bared and as the reading was concluded the king-at-arms, raising his hat, cried "God save the king." The crowd took up the cry while the cheers, the fanfares of trumpets and the band playing the national anthem, made a curious medley. King-at-Arms Weldon read the proclamation in clear tones which were distinctly heard at a great distance. A third fanfare of trumpets ended the ceremony. The officials then marched in procession from the balcony through the palace to the ambassador's court, where a number of royal carriages had been placed by direction of the king at the disposal of the earl marshal. These took the officials who read the proclamation, to the city escorted by a detachment of horseguards forming a picturesque and gorgeous procession.

The contingent from the College of Arms was composed of three kings-at-arms, four heralds and eight pursuivants. The costumes of the two latter were gorgeous beyond compare. They wore tabards, a garment resembling the costume of kings as depicted on playing cards. These tabards were beautifully and heavily embroidered with silk lions, the royal coat of arms and flowers in bewildering confusion. There was the rouge dragon, the blue mantle and the maltravers, with all the armorial bearings of that quaint old body, the College of Arms, in full and solemn array. A blare of trumpets announced the progress of the cavalcade as it proceeded through Trafalgar Square and The Strand. The trumpeters blew a blast while the crowd stood bareheaded and silenced, not knowing what to do till a military band in the procession struck up "God Save the King." This familiar air has still but one meaning in England and the crowd took up the words feebly with "God Save the King" on the tongue, but with "God Save the Queen" in mind. A few streets further on the proclamation was read again and the procession advanced by way of Ludgate hill to the royal exchange. The square before the exchange with the prison-like walls of the bank of England on one side and the massive official residence of the lord mayor on the other was a stage setting whose age and solidity befit the portentous ceremony. There were no demonstrations except flags, all half masted, save the city's red cross on a white field over the Mansion House. The royal standard hung above the exchange and over the surrounding business buildings flew the union jack. Black was the universal color worn by the people. Hardly a bright bonnet or crown relieved the somberness of the crowd. Soldiers and policemen formed an almost solid line down Cheap side, where the pageant was to pass. The people behind them crowding to, a sight over their shoulders were of all classes, from prosperous brokers to east end costers. The mass was subdued and remarkably orderly, an impressive contrast to the usual London holiday crowd. The roofs of the exchange, bank and Mansion House and the windows and balconies overlooking the scene were filled with solid rows of people. Big policemen kept a clear space in front of the exchange. At about 10 o'clock, the procession, which was disappointingly short, though gorgeous, swept down from Temple Bar at a rapid pace and was received silently. The officials entered the exchange by Cornhill and appeared on the top steps, the lord mayor with the sword bearer, leading sheriffs, auditors, recorder and city marshal following. A flourish of trumpets impressed silence upon the crowds and the lord mayor, uncovering, stepped forward. All hats came off and the men remained bareheaded throughout the ceremony, under the misty rain, for nearly half an hour. The lord mayor's voice was strong and his words were distinguishable a block away while he read the warrant of the privy council to the herald. Thereupon the spectacularly attired herald for the third time delivered the proclamation.

Subdued Enthusiasm. Probably no one 50 feet distant heard his voice, until the ending, he raised his voice and shouted "God save the king," putting particular stress upon the words. When the lord mayor finished reading the warrant with the words "His majesty, King Edward VII," the crowd for the first time, cheered feebly, but without unison, seeming to feel that too great a display of enthusiasm for the king may appear to partake of disloyalty to the memory of the departed queen. It was only when the herald shouted "God save the king" that the populace responded heartily with cheers, many people echoing the shout of "God save the king" and waving their hats. The lord mayor in the meantime, proceeding to the Mansion House stepped out on the upper balcony and said in ringing tones: "Join in singing from the bottom of your hearts 'God Save the King.'" The response was uncertain, for the people present feared to undertake the unfamiliar words, until the common sergeant, legal adviser of the corporation, led off, whereupon hundreds joined in. This was repeated three times, each time hundreds more taking up the singing until it became a mighty roar. Then came more cheers for the king and for the queen consort, hearty, but solemn and of a vastly different sort from the shouts heard for Queen Victoria's jubilee. There was an undertone of mourning. Then the Lifeguards and officials moved away and the crowd dispersed.

The city officials gathered about a table in the Mansion House and raised their glasses, drinking the health of King Edward VII, who had been proclaimed according to the ancient ritual.

The house of lords and house of commons continued the swearing in of members. The Duke of Marlborough was among the first peers to take the oath Thursday.

FUNERAL OF THE QUEEN.

Servants at Windsor Castle February 2. Military in character.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 24.—It has been decided that the funeral of the queen will take place at Windsor castle Feb. 2. The body of the late queen will be removed from Osborne House Feb. 1. It was the expressed desire of the queen that the funeral should be military in character. Several officials have arrived from Windsor bringing the state regalia. Orders have been issued to the channel squadron and all other available ships to assemble at Spithead, Feb. 1. It is understood that the warships will form a double line, through which the royal yacht, bearing the body will pass.

A naval salute of 21 guns was fired here at noon in honor of King Edward VII.

An expectant crowd lined Trinity pier, as the royal yacht Alberta, with King Edward on board, turned the point and the first gun of the royal salute thundered from the British warship Australia. All the flags hitherto half masted were hauled down, marking the suspension of mourning till the king had landed. The depressing surroundings were somewhat lightened by the presence of the naval and military staffs in brilliant uniforms. The king landed at 2:45 p. m. In acknowledgment of the silent greetings of the people he frequently raised his hat. He came ashore with the Duke of Connaught and drove to Osborne House, where Emperor William met him at the gates and warmly greeted him. Immediately after the king landed, the flags were again half masted. His majesty was somewhat careworn but otherwise appeared to be in excellent health. During the crossing he was busily engaged with state dispatches and telegrams of sympathy and inditing replies.

The imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with the crown prince of Germany, Frederick William on board, will arrive here Friday.

The coffin of Queen Victoria will be of English oak lined with satin. It was ordered here and has been delivered at Osborne House. The outer casket will be a reproduction of casket used at the funeral of the Duchess of Kent, the queen's mother. A magnificent satin pall, with the royal arms in each corner is being made. Wherever it traverses roads, the body will be borne on a gun carriage.

Emperor William has decided not to leave Osborne until after the funeral.

President Hubert Herkomer, R. A. has made a water color sketch of the queen for King Edward.

Victoria's Wealth.

London, Jan. 24.—The queen's private wealth yielded an income of about £200,000 yearly. This is exclusive of £385,000 annually from parliament. Her private income, as gathered from easily available sources, was from the Duchy of Lancaster, upwards of £50,000; from 37,372 acres in the queen's other estates, £25,000; from London realty, supposedly, £10,000; in consols and other securities, between £2,000,000 and £3,000,000. She inherited nearly all the prince consort's estate of £600,000 40 years ago, and £500,000 in 1852 from John Camden Nield, the son of a rich jeweler. The queen was a clear-headed business woman, and of course had the best financial advice.

Emperor William's Order.

Berlin, Jan. 24.—The Official Gazette contains the following imperial rescript from Emperor William, dated at Osborne, Jan. 23: "The death of my beloved, highly honored and never to be forgotten grandmother, Victoria, has plunged me and my house into deepest mourning. I know my army sincerely shares in the grievous loss I have sustained; and I hereby decree that all officers of my army shall wear mourning for 14 days."

Empress Frederick's Illness.

Homburg, Jan. 24.—The condition of the dowager empress Frederick continues satisfactory. Lately she has not suffered any pain, but this does not imply improvement. However, her majesty's sorrow and personal loss owing to the death of the queen has been borne with comparative fortitude.

Respectful Sympathy of Boers.

Pretoria, Jan. 24.—Signs of sorrow over the death of the queen are everywhere visible. Even the burghers show a respectful sympathy. It has been suggested by influential burghers that an amnesty proposal would have the effect of greatly hastening peace.

Czar's Court in Mourning.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—The czar left Livadia on the royal yacht, taking a train for Sebastopol, leaving there in the evening for St. Petersburg, where the court goes into mourning.

King of Portugal.

Lisbon, Jan. 24.—The king of Portugal will start direct for London Saturday to attend the queen's funeral.

NOTHING FROM CONGER.

State Department Is Not Officially Posted on Progress at Peking.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The state department has had no recent advices from Minister Conger, so it has no knowledge of the latest phases of the negotiations at Peking as reported in the press dispatches.

Our government has by no means abandoned hope of preserving concert between the powers at Peking, at least until the minor points to be adjusted under the agreement with the Chinese officials have been disposed of. It has anticipated serious divergence of views among the powers respecting the weightier topics of indemnity and the permanent maintenance of armed forces in China, but it is not informed that those topics have yet seriously engaged the attention of the ministers.

Want China's Emperor Restored.

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 24.—Five copies of a petition asking for the reinstatement of the young emperor of China have been sent by Wa Cum Yow, secretary of the Chinese Reform association of Canada and the United States to the powers most directly interested in the Chinese troubles. The feature of the document is the agreement that if the powers aid the young emperor in being placed again on the throne, the policy of government may be dictated by the various nations.

HOPE FOR MRS. MAYBRICK.

Renewed Efforts Will Be Made to Restore Her to Liberty.

New York, Jan. 24.—Clark Bell, president of the Medical and Legal Aid society has announced that his society has determined to take up the Maybrick case at once and that the chances are now more favorable than ever for the pardon or acquittal, after fair trial, of the American woman under a sentence of life imprisonment in England, charged with poisoning her husband. The taking up of the case is due to the attitude which the new king of England is known to have assumed regarding Mrs. Maybrick. It is said that he has made it no secret that he favors her pardon. The most important evidence in favor of reopening the case for the pardon of Mrs. Maybrick is a letter to Mrs. Maybrick dated June 26, 1895, from Lord Russell, of Killowen. In it Lord Russell declares that Mrs. Maybrick was never proved guilty. It is understood that Ambassador Choate favors the release of Mrs. Maybrick, and has only awaited an opportunity to present her case to the new home secretary. In case all appeals to the king and the home secretary fail, it is understood that the Medical and Legal Aid society will ask Miss Clara Barton of the Red Cross society to make a personal appeal to the king.

Soldiers Home in Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 24.—Bills have been introduced in the senate to grant 1,500 acres near Johnson City to the federal government to be used for a soldiers' home and to cede such lands as may be deemed necessary for a forest reservation. The United States agricultural department estimates that 2,000,000 acres in east Tennessee are required for forest preserve.

Got the Right Danko.

Indianapolis, Jan. 24.—Joe Danko was arrested here as a fugitive from Cleveland, O., where he is wanted on a charge of attempting to murder. Danko's brother John, who is said to be a physical counterpart of Joe, has been arrested once and mistaken several times for the man wanted. The police it seems, have just discovered their mistake.

MRS. NATION FLOGGED.

Kansas Saloon Wrecker Horsewhipped By a Veiled Woman.

SPECTATORS DID NOT INTERFERE.

Blow After Blow Bruised the Back of Mrs. Nation Till the Police Stopped The Melée—Abilene Saloon Keepers on Their Guard.

Enterprise, Kan., Jan. 21.—"I am going to finish my work," said Mrs. Carrie Nation determinedly, and the chief of police swore in a dozen extra policemen.

A street fight between women, led on one side by Mrs. Nation, with a following of W. C. T. U. women, and on the other by Mrs. John Schilling, wife of the manager of the saloon wrecked Monday, backed by a dozen women who championed the saloons, was enacted here. As a result, Mrs. Nation swore out warrants against Mrs. Schilling and her husband, and Mrs. William Bittner, charging them with assault. Mrs. Hoffman swore out a warrant against Mrs. Nation, charging her with disturbing the peace.

At 10 o'clock Mrs. Nation, in company with several W. C. T. U. leaders entered a store near William Shook's saloon, which is still unmolested. Mrs. Nation, apparently to give him warning sent for Shook. He complied, but before many words were exchanged between the two she was assaulted by a crowd of women, partisans of the saloons. A general fight between the women ensued, during which a woman heavily veiled, dealt blow after blow upon Mrs. Nation with a horsewhip. Many were drawn to the scene but offered no aid to either side. Quiet was restored only when the police interfered. Mrs. Nation was badly bruised.

Mrs. Nation was found not guilty of disturbing the peace and was released. The cases of the three women arrested on complaint of Mrs. Nation were continued until Friday. Mrs. Nation declares she will swear out additional warrants against these women charging them with attempt to kill.

At Abilene, where Mrs. Nation threatens to make her next onslaught, the saloonkeepers have stationed guards at their places.

A COSTLY AFFAIR.
According to the official report there were not to exceed a dozen cases of smallpox in Greenup County during the recent "epidemic" when the State Board of Health quarantined the county for several days. The Fiscal Court of that county is now engaged in an effort to settle the "cost" of the "epidemic" and "thus far claims amounting to nearly $3,000 for supplies, medicine, nursing, guard duty, etc., have been presented." It has proved a very costly affair for Greenup. Three thousand dollars would pay for the vaccination of nearly all the residents of that county. If the people of Greenup wish to avoid a repetition of such costly affairs, they should see that the statutes in regard to vaccination are rigidly enforced. Other counties could profit by the experience of Greenup.

Mr. Perry Jefferson, of Millersburg, has sold his tobacco to the Continental agent at 6 cents. Charles Martin got 7 cents for his crop and Dr. Mathers 6 cents.

SAMUEL B. WADSWORTH.

A Former Maysvillian Laid to Rest at Perry, Okla.—Touching Tribute to Deceased.

[Guthrie, Okla., State Capital.]
PERRY, O. T., Jan. 21.—(Special)—The funeral of Samuel B. Wadsworth, Ordinance Officer of the First Regiment, Oklahoma National Guards, on Colonel R. V. Hoffman's staff, occurred here at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. It was a beautiful afternoon and all the elements conspired to give opportunity to the many friends of this popular young man, to appear at the funeral ceremonies in token of their appreciation of the good qualities of his life.

Adjutant E. W. Jones, of Colonel Hoffman's staff, and H. E. Pentecost, Paul Jundt and Walter Poland of the Governor's staff, with the First Regiment band and forty-five Elks from Guthrie Lodge No. 426, came in a special car and arrived here at 2 o'clock. They were met at the depot by Company L, of Perry, Oklahoma National Guards, and many of the citizens of Perry. They marched to the residence of the deceased and from there the body was conveyed to the Christian Church.

The pall-bearers were H. W. Pentecost, Paul Jundt and Walter Poland, of the Governor's staff; Mayor Berkey, A. P. Saunders and G. H. Dodson, of the Elks. Mr. Wadsworth in December was initiated into Guthrie Lodge No. 426, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Every seat in the large church was filled and standing space occupied. The services were conducted by Rev. R. E. Myers of the Methodist Church of Pawnee, who married Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth two years ago at Stillwater. The singing of the choir of the church was appropriate and impressive. The sermon by Rev. Myers was good in subject, contents and delivery.

The eulogy on behalf of Guthrie lodge No. 426 B. P. O. E., followed the sermon of Rev. Myers, was delivered by Frank H. Greer.

The cortege to the cemetery was headed by the First Regiment band and Company L, in full uniform and the Governor's staff. There were one hundred and eight vehicles in the procession—the largest ever known in Perry and perhaps the largest ever held in the territory—a great tribute to the memory of the deceased. At the grave the beautiful burial services of the Elks was had, conducted by the Exalted Ruler, I. B. Levy. Three volleys were fired and taps sounded by Company L. The services were not only very largely attended, but unusually impressive.

The following order of Colonel Hoffman, First Regiment Oklahoma National Guards, was promulgated by Adjutant E. W. Jones of the regiment.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST REGIMENT, OKLAHOMA NATIONAL GUARD, GUTHRIE, O. T., JAN. 19, 1901.
Regimental Order No. 2.
1. The Colonel commanding deeply regrets that he is called upon to officially announce the sad death of Captain Sam B. Wadsworth, Ordinance Officer of the First Regiment, Oklahoma National Guard, which occurred in Perry, O. T., Friday, January 18, 1901.

Captain Wadsworth was born at Maysville, Ky., and was thirty-three years of age at his death. He entered the military service of this territory and was elected Captain of Company L, First Regiment, May 12, 1900, which position he filled most acceptably until October 6, 1900, when he was promoted to Ordinance Officer of the First Regiment, Oklahoma National Guard.

As Ordinance Officer he endeavored himself to every officer and enlisted man by his soldierly bearing and courteous manner; no labor, however arduous, was sufficient to weary him; no adverse circumstances could bring discouragement to his untiring spirit.

As a citizen, he was esteemed and honored, and had the respect of all.

To his family, which, by his decease, has suffered irreparable loss, the deepest sympathy is extended.

The officers of the National Guard will wear the appropriate badge of mourning on the sword hilt for thirty days from this date.

ROY V. HOFFMAN,
Colonel Commanding First Regiment.

Edgar W. Jones, Adjutant.
Samuel B. Wadsworth was born at Maysville, Ky., on July 19, 1867, and was therefore thirty-three years and seven months old. His father was eight years Congressman from the Maysville district.

He came to Perry in 1893, at the opening, and at once became an active and influential citizen. In 1897 the firm of Dulaney & Wadsworth was organized in the real estate and loan business and progressed with great success. The firm was territorial agents for the German-American Insurance Company and did a lucrative and rapidly growing business.

The Regent of the Valentine Peers Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution desires a full meeting of the Daughters at her house on Saturday, January 20th, at 2 o'clock. Besides being pay day for the coming Congress there is important business needing the attention of every Daughter. Please all come.

RAILWAY BUILDING.

Over Four Thousand Miles of New Road Constructed Last Year—Interesting Figures.

During the year 1900 there were 4,322 miles of new railroad constructed in the United States. On account of the high price of rails the amount of construction was not as large as expected at the beginning of the year. In Kentucky only thirty-three miles were constructed. Fifteen Southern States show an added mileage of 1,710 miles. Texas leads all other States with 318 miles of new railroad and Pennsylvania comes second with 277 miles. The longest stretch of track was built by the St. Louis and San Francisco, 142 miles. The Louisville and Nashville built ninety-nine miles, the Chesapeake and Ohio 108, the B. and O. S. W. thirty-eight miles, Southern Railway sixty-five miles. Nearly all of the big systems spent large sums in reducing grades and building new bridges.

THE HOME STORE.

WOMEN'S GLOVES!

A quiet talk about them—a statement of their goodness—how they are liked, why we can sell a $1 Glove for 69c. It isn't reasonable under ordinary circumstances we could make such a cut not if the gloves are "right" and we paid the usual price. Late in the season—the wholesaler's season—our glove man came along with a tempting offer of odd lots of Kid Gloves. Not our regular line that we import direct, but good genuine kidskin $1 Gloves. We satisfied ourselves as to quality and took the gloves. They are here now and are yours to choose

For 69 Cents!

Not a hurt in the skins, the colors, the stitching. The Gloves are "right." You save money on every pair you buy for 69c. Black and colors. All sizes, but not every size in each color. The kid is a little heavier, a trifle more elastic than the "Fedora"—our pattern Glove—but their maker in Grenoble is one of the best known and his Gloves are everywhere respected for style and goodness. Don't be afraid to try a pair—you know we are safe. "The good goods store" is the way we heard ourselves described the other day. It pleased us. It is our daily endeavor to live up to that reputation.

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE

Are the Illustrated Lectures Given by State Sunday School Evangelist Hopkins at Christian Church.

Notwithstanding the exceedingly inclement weather last evening a very good crowd assembled at the Christian Church to hear the first of Mr. Robert M. Hopkins' illustrated addresses. Mr. Hopkins is engaged in giving a series of these lectures throughout Kentucky under the auspices of the State Sunday School Board of the Christian Church.

His talk last night was on Palestine, the political divisions of the country at the time of Christ, the principal cities and the characteristic traits of the people and the various divisions of the country. He used the blackboard very effectively in impressing the points he brought out.

Following this he gave a series of fine stereopticon views and moving pictures, interspersed with a fine temperance lesson strikingly portrayed with the stereopticon. This part of the program was opened and closed with a song service, "At the Cross," for the opening, and closing with "Beulah Land." Both songs were very beautifully impressed with a series of dissolving views. Mr. Youngblood has charge of the stereopticon, and the views were as fine as were ever seen.

Mr. Hopkins will speak again to-night at 7 o'clock and give a series of views. Saturday afternoon at 2:30 he will give the third of his talks. They are highly interesting and instructive and all Sunday school pupils and workers should make it a point to attend. Admission free. The public invited.

Sunday night at 7 o'clock Mr. Hopkins will preach on "The Man of Galilee" and illustrate his sermon with the stereopticon.

Judge Jackson the Only Justice Who Holds a Commission Signed by Lincoln.

[Exchange.]
United States Judge Jackson is the only member of the Judiciary now living whose commission was signed by Lincoln, and probably the only official in continuous service. His experience has been a wonderful one. He has probably decided more questions of law than any other man living in this country, has had more to do with settling the titles to the lands in this part of the country than any other man who lived, and he is still as vigorous in mind, and almost as robust of body, as he was when, in the first flush of manhood, he set about the performance of his work.

Blown to Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure constipation and sick headache. Only 25c. at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store.

Grip is very prevalent throughout the county.

Mr. Charles Hasty, the author of "Two Merry Tramps," is a writer of vast and varied experience and this, his latest effort, is even acknowledged by himself to be his best. See the "Two Merry Tramps" to-night at the opera house.

Mr. John B. Orr, the carpenter, has entered the race for City Assessor, in response to solicitations from many of his friends. Mr. Orr is well fitted in every way for the position and can be relied upon to make a faithful and very efficient official if honored with the office.

Jno. F. Hinton, who has been doing a general merchandise business at Plummer's Mills, has made an assignment to J. W. Hunter for the benefit of his creditors. The principal creditors are Biggs, Watts & Co., of Huntington, W. Va., $277; Kitchen, White & Co., of Ashland, $120; Geo. W. Yazell and J. W. Hunter, both of Fleming County, $250 each. GERMANTOWN, Jan. 24th, 1901.—Germantown K. of P. lodge celebrated their third anniversary Monday night, Jan. 21st. All the members were present and quite a number of visiting brethren. L. H. Landman, M. D.,

Of 547 West Ninth Street, CINCINNATI,

Will be at the Central Hotel, Maysville, Ky., Thursday, FEBRUARY 7th, 1901, returning every first Thursday in each month.

WHEN UNCLE JOSH went to buy a christening mug for Tabithy's seventh baby the Clerk showed him some silver ones. "This is two dollars more than the other," said the clerk, "on account of the chasing." "Shucks," said Uncle Josh, "you don't have to chase me none. I allers pays cash."

That's the sort o' customers we're pinin' after. We want more "Uncle Josh's" to come in and pay cash for their WOVEN WIRE FIELD FENCE, to save the "chasing." Not because their credit isn't good, but on account of the need of money, we offer a premium on SPOT CASH transactions. We are, of course, willing to sell to responsible parties and carry their account on our books, but for SPOT CASH they can save 5 cents on every rod bought of us while the present invoice lasts. Five cents a rod doesn't seem much of an inducement, it is true, but where the purchase is considerable, the saving is worth while. We are enabled to make this offer by paying SPOT CASH ourselves, and give our patrons an opportunity to practice economy on similar terms. We are now prepared to supply this popular fencing in all the various widths, and on short notice.
